

Directions for reading your RWSD Bill:

The front of your billing statement :

1. The service address is where the service is physically being provided by RWSD
2. This is the account number associated with this account
3. The bill TYPE refers to the billing cycle this account is associated with (administrative)
4. This is the total amount due for this billing cycle
5. This is the date the payment should be received in our office (or before)
6. This is the account number associated with this account
7. This is the physical address where the service is provided
8. This is the beginning water meter reading date
9. This is the ending water meter reading date
10. This is the date of the current billing cycle
11. This box is for water service and usage charges
12. This box is for sewer service and usage charges
13. This box is a total of water and sewer charges (add box 11 and box 12)
14. This is the actual meter readings from the last billing period to the current billing period
15. This is the actual amount of water used (to the nearest 1,000 gallons)
16. This is last year's usage at the same billing period
17. This is the message box (you may also find rates here)

The back of your billing statement has current information on how to contact RWSD, where and how to make payments as well as payment options.

You will also find other information pertaining to your monthly billing statement.

Our website is www.roxwater.org

Please contact us if you have any questions regarding how to read your billing statement

303-979-7286